Bio:

Born in Mombasa, Kenya. Since her youth she was involved in church choir and school musical activities thus making her a second best soloist in 1991 during the national drama festivals. Lioness never stopped achieving her dream of becoming a singer. She sang live in different occasions with friendly band groups. In 1999, she relocated to Nairobi, Kenya for greener pastures. By the year 2000, she was fortunate to join one of the leading bands in Kenya called BIG MATATA which gained her great experience for live performance. She toured with the group during their concerts. She then released her album called TULIZA BOLI, which got a positive response on the Kenyan local music scene. It was when Lioness took a trip to a neighbouring country "Djibouti" for a series of concerts where her passion for working with children arose. After seeing the children in Djibouti, how they lived and fed themselves from the garbage in the streets, Lioness felt so sorry for the lives of these children. Lioness shared her food with the children. Immediately on her return to Kenya She released her single "Maisha Yao" which means "Their lives"; which can be found on Youtube Now based in Lecce, Italy Lioness is still on the rise. She already won a local singing talent show in Carpignano Salentino, Lecce [2008] AND 2016 which gained her popularity amongst the residents. Lioness latest recordings have been Sister love, Roar, Cry revolution and her latest single is Nakereka.
